Weekly News

What have we been up to this week?

We decided to change our role play area into a shop this week. There has been great excitement choosing which items to buy as well as decisions being made about how many items will fit into which bag or basket! We have also been enjoying sharing the story of The Gruffalo together this week which has inspired some lovely conversations about different animals. In the playdough we have been pretending to make cakes, adding sequins on as decorations, which is great for supporting fine motor control. There has also been lots of super chatting about different patterns that we spot in and around Preschool; we have found spots, patches, and stripes.

Welly Wednesday

We decided to plant some daffodil and tulip bulbs this week. First, we used a trowel to dig a deep hole to hide the bulb in, and then we covered it up with compost so the bulb could sleep over the winter. Fingers crossed we will see flowers appear in the spring!

Super Sounds

We have been chatting about the initial sounds we can hear at the beginning of different words. Well done Preschool, you are doing some super listening!

Songs and Rhymes

It has been great fun singing about 'A Dingle Dangle Scarecrow' this week and it has been very exciting to create actions to accompany the words. You might enjoy sharing the BBC Mr Tumble version together home.

★ Wow Moments ★

Well done Little Chestnuts for sharing and taking turns to be the shop keeper in our role play shop. Thank you, Madison for your delicious cakes that you bought in to share with us too.

Happy Birthday!

Happy 4th Birthday Madison! We hope you had a very special day!
