

Little Chestnuts Preschool

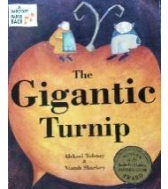

Weekly News

November 18th 2022

What have we been up to this week?

We have enjoyed sharing a story about a GIGANTIC turnip this week. There was lots of lovely chatting about different sizes and the different animals who helped to pull the turnip out. We have also been busy finding out about the difference between pushing and pulling in our play; it was very exciting to discover some magnetic bricks in our small world area. In our role play house, preschool have been making lots of decisions which clothes to dress the dolls in, undoing buttons and making sure the clothes fit! Some dolls even had a warm, bubbly bath! We have especially enjoyed sharing and taking turns to play a game about incy winsy spider who had to reach his web.

Welly Wednesday

It has been very exciting to discover some small, knitted mice in Preschool... we have had great fun taking them on adventures outside! We discovered that all the rain had made the grass very wet and the leaves were very good at hiding things!

Super Sounds

We have been focusing on listening this week. We have really enjoyed playing I Spy together; listening to all the words in a description and taking it in turns to guess which toy animal was being described!

Songs and Rhymes

Miss Molly had a dolly

Little Chestnuts have really enjoyed the addition of some dolls in Preschool this week! It inspired us to sing 'Miss Polly had a Dolly' together. A lovely version can be found on the BBC website that you may enjoy sharing together.

Wow Moments

It has been lovely to welcome Olivia into Little Chestnuts Preschool this week. Well done to Olivia for settling in so beautifully and thank you Alfie and Madison for being so welcoming.
